

The Golden Rule

A young farmer went to his banker a short time ago and asked to borrow $300.00. After consulting the depositors ledger and noting the condition of said farmer's account the banker said: "Alright sir, you can have it. I observe that while your account is not large, yet it has been gradually increasing, which shows that you are succeeding. I also note that you are apparently doing all your business with us, which shows that you are our friend, and we always feel like helping our friends." Was the banker's conclusion logical? This bank preaches and practices the Golden Rule.

SOCIETY

Delta Theta Epsilon Club.

Beautiful in every detail was the "April Shower" party given to the members of the Delta Theta Epsilon Club and a number of other guests last Friday evening.

The whole lower floor of the spacious Lee home, which was bright with stands of spring flowers, was thrown open for the enjoyment of the guests. The score cards, which were in the shape of parasols and of every color of the rainbow, were taken from an open parasol suspended from the chandelier in the reception hall. The parlor was unusually attractive, there too a parasol hung from the chandelier and from this were streamers of various colored crepe paper, making a canopy over the entire room. At the conclusion of the interesting contest on facts about April, the club prize, a handsome silk parasol, was presented to Mrs. James Johnson, and the visitor's, a silver thimble, to Mrs. M. F. Priest.

In the dining room, Mesdames W. E. Townes and J. B. Cox, served a delicious two course menu. The favors, tiny Japanese umbrellas, further emphasized the idea of the evening. A white silk parasol with a shower of spring flowers was suspended over the table, which was covered with Irish crochet lace and had for a floral center piece a cut glass bowl of purple and white lilacs.

Miss Lee was lovely in a gown of white embroidered marquisette, over yellow satin. She was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. A. M. Lee, and Mrs. J. E. Garver.

Book Lovers Club.

Mrs. W. E. Hailey gave a pleasurable entertainment to the Book Lovers Club Thursday evening of last week, at her home on Harrison avenue. The hostess was ably assisted by Miss Ruth Hailey, of McMoresville, who served fruit to the guests upon their arrival, and by Mrs. J. H. Bayer, Mrs. T. M. Harwell, Mrs. Will McCollum and Miss Ophelia Bayer.

In honor of the one hundredth anniversary of Charles Dickens' birth year, the contest was concerning Dickens. At the conclusion of the contest prizes were presented Mrs. R. A. Greene and Mrs. H. L. Hubbard, the former receiving hand embroidered pillow cases, and the latter, hand made roses.

Cut flowers were used effectively throughout the suite of rooms used in entertaining. Particularly pretty was the dining room with its color motif of red and green, where a dainty collation was served.

A musical program was rendered by Miss Olive Wright and Miss Jessie Hubbard.

T. C. Boone, of Bradford, spent Sunday with his family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jones.

Mrs. S. A. Rowland and daughter, and Mrs. T. C. Lowry, of Hollow Rock, were here trading with our merchants last Wednesday.

Mrs. H. P. Similey, of Lawrenceburg, came in last Wednesday night to spend a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Foster.

D. J. Crossett, of the Eighth district, is the proud possessor of a silver cup that Tom Darnell won in a fiddler's contest in the Carroll county fair in the year 1860.

Mrs. Brooks, of Memphis, is here for a few weeks rest. She is a friend of Miss Lalla Carter and is stopping with the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Noell.

We are requested to announce that the time for holding memorial services at Carter's Chapel has been changed. The services will not be held Saturday, May 11, as heretofore advertised. The time will be published later.

Judge Wilson Enochs, who has been quite sick for some time, is improving slowly, and his friends are hopeful that he will be able to be out again before a great while. His daughter, Miss Frances, is getting much better.

G. T. Jones, L. S. Jones and Mrs. Nora F. Jones, of the Atwood community, were here on business last Wednesday. Mrs. Jones qualified as administratrix of the estate of her late husband, C. F. Jones.

Mrs. Oscar Hill, of Maria, Ark., and Mrs. L. L. Harwell, of Wilson, Ark., were in Huntingdon a couple of days the latter part of last week. They have been for some time with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Butler, of Westport.

Miss Ruby Lankford, of Huntingdon, attended the Margrave-Brummitt wedding.—Gleason Outlook.

Mrs. McCord and daughter, Miss Neya, who have been visiting the family of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. McConkey for the last two or three weeks, left last Monday for their home.

It is reported that a Mr. Bragdon, of McKenzie, is thinking of putting in a bakery here. We hope the report is true and Mr. Bragdon will soon be doing business, as we need a good bakery in town.—Gleason Outlook.

A. H. Latham came over from Birmingham, Ala., this week and accompanied his wife home. She had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Neil Wright. She was quite sick a few days, but was able to go home Wednesday.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were big trading days with the merchants of Huntingdon. The first two days the crowds were very large and trade exceedingly good. The farmers and their wives were here buying millinery and spring and summer goods. The hardware people also had fine trade.

B. W. Freeman loaded a car with hens Monday and Tuesday. He paid 11 cents a pound and a large number of hens were sold. One party brought in 48 hens and received $22.70. Mr. Freeman turned loose quite a nice sum of money to the farmers of this community. There must be money in raising chickens at this price.

A house belonging to Mrs. Lovie Lewis, in Henderson county, was blown away last Friday night. No one lived at the place, a family having recently moved out. The outhouses, barn, etc., were also blown down. The entire house was taken across the road and left some distance from where it formerly stood. The property was near the Carroll county line.

The W. C. T. U. of Trezevant, are asking the citizens of that town and community for donations in clothing, bedding or money for the relief of the flood sufferers. Articles sent to the home of Mrs. Maud Sloan, who is chairman of the relief committee, will be gratefully received. They will receive contributions until the first of next week. This is a worthy cause and should appeal to the good people of that town and community.

SCREEN YOUR PORCHES

You know and appreciate the value of door screens and window screens, but have you considered how very comfortable the porch would be this summer if screened?

Call and let us explain the value of the different kinds of screen wire, such as the black, the galvanized, the bronzed.

By the way, bronze wire is becoming more and more popular. The price is lower than ever before by almost half. The copper wire cloth lasts indefinitely as it never rusts under any circumstances.
